Want to help us to create the best Fall Fair, ever?

Like working with kids and families and have a knack with arts and crafts? Want to be a craft mentor for two days? Help with the Creativity Activity Stations, indoors, featuring arts and crafts associated with this year's Grand Valley Fall Fair theme: Butterflies & Honeybees. You and members of the team will rotate through craft stations on Saturday and Sunday, with regular breaks and a meal provided. It's messy and inspiring family fun with lots of interaction with kids of all ages! You're responsible and friendly and can take direction from the Grand Valley Fall Fair Ambassador. You'll be given instruction and trained for guest safety, courtesy and fun. Up to 5 students may be chosen for the team of craft supervisors. You will be committing to Saturday morning and afternoon and Sunday afternoon, including set-up assistance and breakdown for other programming in the same space. You will need to provide your own transportation, for each day.

Please send your Cover Letter e-mail and/or Life Experience Resumes before midnight - Sunday June 30th, 2016 to gvagsociety@live.com or through the Grand Valley Agricultural Society's website at www.grandvalleyfallfair.ca
